

Seamless transition when consolidating NRTL certification

SGS CERTIFICATION TRANSFER PROGRAM

Products destined for US workplaces must be certified by a Nationally Recognized Testing Laboratory (NRTL) accredited by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). Consolidating all your product certifications with one company offers significant benefits in terms of saving you time, money and effort.

Experience seamless transition from any service provider to SGS with our free NRTL certification transfer program.

WHY CONSOLIDATE?

Consolidating your NRTL certifications with one service provider can lead to:

- Operational efficiencies
- Cost savings
- Better compliance management
- Centralized record keeping

SEAMLESS TRANSITION

Our free NRTL file rollover solution is fast and efficient. After a simple assessment process, your product will be certified with the SGS NRTL Mark, demonstrating compliance with all applicable safety standards, thereby streamlining your path to markets in the US. Also, retesting may not be required if the product has not changed and holds a valid and current certification with another NRTL.

After completing the listing transfer, we will perform an initial factory audit to verify continued product compliance and routinely oversee your products to ensure product compliance with any/all relevant and applicable safety standards, so you never have to worry about it again. This is done without a listing transfer fee, saving you the additional expense and hassle often encountered when using other laboratories.

BENEFITS OF THE SGS CERTIFICATION TRANSFER PROGRAM

- No annual maintenance fee
- No listing transfer fee
- Only two factory inspections a year (when permissible by the product category)
